

Requirements planning: Team discusses with client about the features to be developed in the social media app.

User design: the design for the application is done and is confirmed with the client.

Version 1:

Construction: First the basics of a social media app is created. Like creating a profile and functionality to send messages.

Implementation: Once the functionalities are developed they are implemented.

User interaction: User is asked about the opinion on the first version

Version 2:

Construction: To the existing app, now the functionality to call is added. And the changes mentioned are also done.

Implementation: Once the functionalities are developed they are implemented.

User interaction: User is asked about the opinion on the second version

Version 3:

Construction: To the existing app, now the functionality to post images and videos are added. And the changes mentioned are also done.

Implementation: Once the functionalities are developed they are implemented.

User interaction: User is asked about the opinion on the third version

Version 4:

Construction: To the existing app, now the functionality to like and comment the posts are added. And the changes mentioned are also done.

Implementation: Once the functionalities are developed they are implemented.

User interaction: User is asked about the opinion on the fourth version

Version 5:

Construction: the changes mentioned are also done.

Implementation: The final version is implemented